PLEDGE RUN

◆ SOME of the candidates who signed up to an election pledge created by campaign group Communities Before Developers are pictured in Honiton

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

WITH the local elections only a few days away an east Devon campaign group has published a list of candidates who have signed up to an election pledge.

As previously reported in Pulman's View, Communities Before Developers created seven pledges and has been asking election candidates to sign up to the commitments.

The pledge includes "opposing developers which compromise precious environmental resources", "prioritising the interests of existing residents over those who might move to east Devon if more houses were built" and agreeing that "planning permission must be conditional on developers fully covering the costs of infrastructure and service provision associated with a development".

A spokesman for the campaign group said: "Almost one quarter of candidates hopeful of a seat on East Devon District Council have put their names to a pledge, which prioritises the wishes of local residents.

"Twenty nine candidates have signed up to the pledge, which relates in large part to protecting valuable countryside and representing constituents' views.

"The candidate's pledge was put together at the request of residents who asked Communities Before Developers for advice on which would-be councillors might properly represent their views."

According to the campaign group, 16 Liberal Democrats, seven Independents, four Green Party, one UK

Independence Party and one Labour candidate have signed up to the pledge.

Sandra Semple, former mayor of Seaton and now a member of Communities Before Developers, added: "Now residents can look down the list and see for themselves who has signed up to a set of principles in their area, so it doesn't matter anymore if people don't know their candidates.

"Residents can be confident that they know who they are voting for and what they stand for, regardless of the political label."

To view the full list of candidates who have signed up to the pledge visit www.communitiesbeforedevelopers.org.

The local elections, along with the referendum on the alternative vote, take place on Thursday, May 5th.

Tree fell OK says EDDC

A MATURE horse chestnut tree in Axminster can be felled if necessary, East Devon District Council (EDDC) has decided.

As previously reported, the tree stands between Coombefield Veterinary Hospital and the district council car park, off Coombe Lane.

The veterinary hospital is expanding and work to construct a two-storey extension is underway.

The veterinary hospital applied for the removal of a planning condition regarding tree protection measures and retention of the tree.

The application was made after an arboricultural implication assessment concluded that it would be "unwise to retain the tree" as there is a high probability that it will rapidly decline.

The assessment also said the tree's root system has been heavily restricted by the car park and past construction work.

A number of people made representations to EDDC, opposing the application, some saying the tree is an important visual amenity.

The hospital replied that it wants the tree to stay, but based its application on the assessment findings.

In a letter to Pulman's View at the time, practice manager Jonathan Osmond wrote: "If we are successful, our plan is not to immediately act on the permission, but to sit on it for a while to see how well the tree survives before making a decision."

"From our point of view, we would like the horse chestnut to stay — it softens up our building and the council car park and provides summer shade to the clinical end of our building making it easier to regulate the temperature of our patients."

EDDC approved the application on Monday, April 18th and included a condition involving a replacement tree planting. An EDDC officer's report stated: "On the basis that the existing approval compromises the tree, the application is considered to be acceptable but replacement tree planting will be secured as mitigation."

A WORKSHOP at Drakes Farm, Musbury, has been destroyed by fire.

Fire crews from Axminster and Colyton were called to the incident in the early hours of Wednesday, April 27th. Crews from Exeter and Seaton also attended the scene. Cylinders and other farm chemicals were involved in the fire.

Pensioner hit by phone scammers

WORN DOWN BY CON ARTISTS — NOW £650 DOWN

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findlenews.co.uk

AN Axminster pensioner has lost £650 after she was conned in a recent telephone scam.

According to police, the victim was called by a man claiming to be from the Ministry of Justice. The caller is alleged to have had an Indian or other Asian accent.

The scammer told the pensioner that her bank had overcharged her, and she was due a refund of £4,500, but in order to claim the refund she would have to pay £650 up front to secure the payment.

Initially the victim refused, but after three weeks and approximately 12 phone calls from the suspect she handed over her details.

A spokesman for Devon and Cornwall Police said: "The victim states that she and her husband were in ill health and the male eventually wore her objections down.

"The male specified that she should pay the upfront fee by going to Co-op and paying the money for a UKASH voucher via the PayPoint machine.

"This generates a voucher with a unique code which the victim then passed to the suspect, enabling him to withdraw the cash anywhere in the world via a PayPoint machine.

"No payment was forthcoming and the victim lost the £650 fee.

"Anyone who is contacted in similar fashion is strongly advised not to part with any money and if in any doubt to speak to their bank in person."

Village family's lucky carbon monoxide escape

A WHITFORD family had a lucky escape after their carbon monoxide alarm was activated.

The incident took place on Monday, April 25th, just after 5.30pm at a property in Shalford Terrace.

Fire crews from Axminster and Colyton were called to the scene.

The crews confirmed that a defective oil fire boiler was the cause of the alarm.

The property was ventilated using a positive pressure ventilation fan.

Pulman's Country unites in celebration

AS Royal Wedding fever strikes the nation, residents across Pulman's Country unite to join the jubilation.

East Devon has been full of street parties, tea parties, exhibitions and get-togethers as people in the area join in to celebrate the marriage of HRH Prince William to Kate Middleton on Friday last.

With schoolchildren enjoying parties on Thursday, residents holding street parties on the big day and other events taking place on Saturday, the celebrations were extended over the holiday weekend as the Great British public relished in the joy of the popular young couple.

Pulman's View takes great delight in wishing the newlyweds luck and happiness for the future and in providing photos and reports of the activities across the area in this special Royal Wedding issue.

Over 50 entries for post office Easter competition

AXMINSTER Post Office enjoyed more than 50 entries for its Easter colouring competition.

The competition had three different age categories, with Leila Imm winning the category for those aged up to three years.

Georgias Imm triumphed in the next category, for those aged up to six years, whilst Barbara Krzyszkowska and Kelly-Anne Smith were joint winners of the category for older children.

The winners collected their prizes from Roger and Linda Lawrence of Axminster Post Office on Easter Saturday.

Linda said that any participant is welcome to visit the post office to collect a small, chocolate-based prize.

Scout club members explosion

SCOUT membership in east Devon has exploded, in one case with as much as 70 per cent.

The Scout Association has published its membership census for 2010-11, which shows a total youth and adult membership of 678 for east Devon.

In east Devon the numbers of young people joining the Explorer section (14-18 years) exploded with a 70 per cent rise and a new unit has opened to cope with the influx.

In addition, membership of the Cub section rose by nearly seven per cent in the twelve months up to January 31st this year.

Zoe Braughton-Turner, a 16-year-old Explorer Scout from Honiton, said: "I love Scouting and its wicked having a mix of girls and boys in my group."

"The opportunities offered to you every week are amazing - one week you could be cooking on open fire, the next doing a walk in the local neighbourhood or multiple craft activities and different games."

"You just wouldn't be able to do anything like this anywhere else."

"I'd definitely encourage young people of all ages to join as Scouting is all about fun, adventure and challenge."

"As you get older and go from the youngest section, Beavers to the oldest, Explorers, the challenges are more adventurous and always fun."

The downside with the movement's popularity is a lack of leaders.

Devon Scouts media manager Steve Hagger said: "The impressive growth seen in recent years means that there is a huge need for more adult leaders, but leader numbers in east Devon have remained static for the last year whilst the waiting list to join Scouting remain at an all-time high."

"The current waiting list to join Scouting in east Devon now stands at 86."

"Scouting provides all young people with opportunities for both adventure and personal development."

"Scout members can enjoy more than 200 outdoor activities such as kayaking, parasailing and zorbing."

"Alongside this, Scouts are encouraged to become responsible members of their communities, reaching their full physical, intellectual, social and spiritual potential development." Anyone interested in becoming a leader can find out more by visiting www.devonscouts.org.uk.

£500 for research

A FUNDRAISER in aid of Cancer Research, held at Luppitt Village Hall on Saturday April 9th, was very successful.

Organisers have announced that a total of just over £500 was raised.

Jo Murray, who helped organise the event, said: "Thanks to everyone who helped and who turned up to support such a worthy cause. If you missed it but still like to donate something, you can go online and log on to www.donatetobreastcancer.org/joannemurrayatourcakes."

TONY JACKSON

A GARDEN INVASION

A READER from Beer, Mr Edworthy, tells me his garden has been invaded by mining bees and wonders whether the little critters will damage the slabs and stone paths surrounding his house.

There are, he writes, holes and mounds everywhere and while, last year, there were only a handful of these bees, this spring they have appeared in large numbers. Will their excavations undermine his paths, he wonders? There are around 30 different species of mining bees, some common, others extremely rare and Mr Edworthy thinks he has identified his particular mining bee as Andrena carantonica.

Personally, I doubt if these bees will cause serious damage to his garden and, as bees are in serious decline, I would recommend that he takes no action. The bees he has seen are the spring brood and there may be a second brood later in the summer. On a bee-related note I recently spotted a curious looking insect, hovering in front of a wooden door and touching it with a long proboscis. The body was stout and resembled a small bumble-bee and the fore-front of the wings bore a dark brown band. This was, in fact, a fly which has adopted a bee guise and is occasionally seen in the spring hovering round flower borders, and taking a particular interest in aubretia, violets and primroses.

Honey bees and bumble bees of various species are swarming over my apple trees. They are enjoying a feast of pollen for the trees are smothered in blossom and promise a heavy yield of apples this year. I have also noticed that orange-tip butterflies are showing in good numbers, fluttering up and down the lanes in search of garlic mustard, their principal food plant.

The male sports the bright orange tips to its wings as a warning to potential predators, as it is extremely distasteful due to the fact that its body contains bitter mustard oils obtained from its food plant. Once a bird has tasted an orange-tip it will avoid the species in the future. I have also seen plenty of large and small whites, a brimstone and a peacock but little else. Hopefully, though, this summer will bring a revival in the fortunes of butterflies and also moths.

Meanwhile, Dorset gardeners are being urged to help Britain's wild bees this summer as so many of the 250 species are in severe decline. Gardeners are being asked to ban the use of any chemicals in their gardens, while the Wildlife Friendly Garden Competition, sponsored by The Garden Group, has categories for all sizes of gardens and numerous prizes. Go to www.dorsetwildlifetrust.org.uk/wgc or call 01305 264620.

On Saturday, May 7th, a special walk is being organised in the Blackdown Hills to listen to the dawn chorus. The walk has been organised by the Blackdown Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) team and takes place at Otterhead Lakes, with a meet at 5am.

Rob Grimond from Somerset Ornithological Society will be present to help identify the many different bird species which contribute to the glorious dawn chorus. If you feel like an early start then you can book a place on the walk by calling 01823 680681 or go to www.blackdownhillsaonb.org.uk.

Still staying with the Blackdown AONB I understand that the fund is once again open to applications for community projects in the Blackdown Hills area. Grants of up to £5,000 are awarded to community groups, schools and small businesses for projects which benefit the area.

In the past projects which have been funded include improvements to village facilities, allotments, wildlife surveys, outdoor classrooms, art events and support for local producers. So, if you have a scheme or project which you think might benefit from the fund call the number quoted above or go the website for further information.

Pulman's View from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

CLERGY are in danger of being conned by bogus couples, according to an Anglican leader.

The strong warning came from Bishop of Ripon and Leeds Rt Revd John Packer, as the Church of England and the Government launched a clampdown on so-called 'sham marriages'. New guidance will advise vicars not to offer banns for people from outside the European community. Instead, such couples will have to apply for a 'common licence', swear affidavits, give proof of identity and address, be visited by the vicar and attend wedding preparation classes.

Churches should try to attract a younger population by emphasising earthly rather than heavenly benefits of religion, says a new study. The Greying Church claims increased life expectancy could be to blame for dwindling attendances, as longer life spans mean people are tempted to put off worrying about what will happen to them after they die.

One of the report's authors, Dr Elissaios Papyrakis, said: "Many religions and societies link to some degree the cumulative amount of religious effort to benefits in the afterlife. We show that higher life expectancy discounts expected benefits in the afterlife, and is therefore likely to lead to postponement of religiosity."

Churches sadly cannot do without money to pay their priests, and keep the congregations warm. It is therefore good to hear of steps by HM Revenue and Customs to help giving by publishing new Gift Aid forms to replace those on the 2009 Gift Aid Toolkit CD and the internet, including the repayment www.hmrc.gov.uk/charities/r68-claim.pdf Form R68.

The new forms can be downloaded from the HM Revenue and Customs website and completed on your computer. It is assumed that all churches and charities will be expected to observe this change. The full range of forms and help-sheets is available from the www.hmrc.gov.uk/charities/gift-aid-toolkit.htm Gift Aid Toolkit.

Church buildings are often a concern to those responsible for them such as churchwardens. There is also word of changes in the scheme for grants towards repairs. For details see www.ipwscheme.org.uk. Still on buildings the Bishop of Chester asked in the House of Lords that parsonage houses could be included in the 'green scheme' for assistance towards insulation of such buildings.

The Government response was affirmative. This column tries to reflect all aspects of church life, and a booklet, priced at £2.50, entitled Is the Ordinatee for You? has just been published by the Anglican Association. For details see www.anganabasis.com.

◆ SHETLAND Hamish saves Palm Sunday service by stepping into donkey's shoes

Hamish saves service

HAMISH the pony saved the day for those attending the Palm Sunday service on April 17th at Yacombe.

Nobody had been able to provide a donkey, so Nina and Tim Retter offered the former's Shetland pony, Hamish.

Hamish was impeccably behaved and braved the waving branches and traffic with aplomb — and went into the church for the first hymn.

Charlie and Jack Lavender, with Alicia Jones and Beau Matthews, distributed palm crosses to the congregation.

Joan Ewins took the service with Tony Izzard, who read the prayer for the day. Lin Box read the lesson and everyone in church took part in enacting the story of the crucifixion.

Garden club annual sale

THE annual Chardstock plant and vegetable sale, organised by Chardstock Gardening Club, takes place on Saturday, May 7th.

The event will be held in the community hall from 10am until 1pm. Entry and parking is free.

Bedding plants, perennials, border plants and shrubs will be available and this year's event will also be promoting vegetable growing.

Jonathan Milford, chairman of Chardstock Gardening Club, said: "People want to grow their own, so this year we will be including a wide range of vegetable plants raised by gardeners in the village, both organic and non organic, and we will have club members available to give help and advice."

"Now is the time for planting and perhaps to try something different."

Locally produced bags of compost, including garden compost and leaf mould will also be on offer.

THE WONDERS OF PROVENANCE!

Much time and value is attributed to the provenance of an item and one of our most beautiful tables exemplifies this better than most.

The story starts with an email from France; I was delighted to be contacted by a young guy who emailed us pictures of a couple of tables he wanted to sell. One of the pictures was of a particularly impressive table over nine feet long and with a fabulous two inch thick top.

It is of a style they refer to as "monastic" in the French trade... presumably reflecting the origins of this distinctive style of table where the legs run straight up and are mortised directly into the top rather than having the usual side rails.

Not only could he tell us this table was made in Normandy but that it was made in the town of Carisy la Salle and that it had spent its life in this region. Although this is not the sort of thing to interest every one, many people are keen to know as much as possible about their new table.

Usually that would be the end of the story however in this case there is more! Table restoration starts by dismantling the table as far as possible into its component parts, prior to carrying out any repairs necessary and subsequent re-assembly.

As we were dismantling this table we discovered another chapter in its history. An old wooden patch glued in place hid a small chamber and in this reveal we found an old piece of headed paper from a business called "Pierre Marie" a framers and joiners business in a small town named La Ferriere-Harang. On the reverse of this label in pencil it stated the table had come in for restoration on the 16th May 1932.

I love this detail.....I love to imagine the workshops, the carpenters and the life these people led in rural France between the wars and wonder how this table survived those catastrophic times.

Full details of this table (and pictures of the hidden letterhead we discovered) can be found on our award winning website at www.alexanderpaulantiques.com where we have over forty beautiful antique French provincial dining tables for sale together with a great selection of coffee tables, serving tables and chairs. Each item has a selection of professional quality images, together with all the sizes and prices; do take a look.....you might find just the table you are looking for!

Alternatively come and visit us at our impressive showrooms at Fenny Bridges (just a couple of miles west of Honiton on the old A30)

We have extensive restoration workshops on site and offer a full antique and modern restoration service to all; we can glue up a wobbly chair for you or repair and re-polish the Victorian extending dining table! No job is either too big or too small.

Beware of the unexpected unstacked stabber!

I read a short while ago that in "the bad old days" when people carried weapons about their person, that sitting down for a meal was a risky business and to do so, other than "with your back against the wall" was even more dangerous!

To avoid the problem of "getting stabbed in the back" long narrow dining tables were provided in hostels so customers could all sit in safety around the walls looking towards the door; other diners and any unexpected attack! I am not sure if there is any truth in thisit certainly sounds plausible and has given our language a few clichés!

Provincial French dining tables have certainly developed along the lines of being long and narrow however this may just have been to accommodate the many farm workers in their communal meals at a single table, sitting together on long narrow benches under the sun.

Times and customs change however and at Alexander Paul Antiques, as French provincial table specialists we are aware that today very narrow tables are always difficult to find homes for as modern requirements dictate sufficient space on the table for more than just the salt and pepper!

We get offered many tables which we regard as too narrow at around twenty five to thirty inches wide and beautiful though they might well be, we pass them by, as we know that customers want a more generous width of around thirty two inches wide or wider.

We currently have in stock a magnificent French cherry table thirteen feet long and with a generous width of over thirty five inches!

If you are searching for a beautiful table for your home then Alexander Paul Antiques, with the largest selection of French provincial dining tables on the web is certainly the first place to look. If thirteen feet is too long for you, then we have many other beautiful tables starting at just three feet long. From cosy tables to seat two to tables to seat the whole family at Christmas we have a table for you!

We have beautiful tables made of beautiful woods, such as Oak, Ash, Cherry, Walnut, Chestnut and Beech.

As well as fabulous dining tables we also have a fantastic selection of serving tables, coffee tables, chairs, benches and slate topped tables.

We also provide the most comprehensive restoration service for antique and modern furniture in the area; everything from a wobbly chair repair to French Polishing can be undertaken in our large modern workshops.

We have a fantastic showroom at Fenny Bridges where you are welcome to come and see all our tables or you can look online at our award winning website at www.alexanderpaulantiques.com

Cool, calm and collected

Make no mistake, the Scandinavians have designs on us - whether they're keeping us glued to the TV with dark Danish crime series The Killing or winning us over to their stylish home furnishings. While a select few may wish to emulate the scruffy look of Deputy Superintendent Sarah Lund (Sofie Grabol), who wears thick, knitted jumpers from the Faroe Islands, transforming rooms is easier and arguably more visually impressive. After all, what's not to like about furniture that has timeless good looks, and colour schemes and settings that seem to make the most of every inch of space and every ray of light?

That's the essence of cool, calm, sleek Scandi-style. Those appealing qualities probably explain why we don't seem to be able to get enough of it. "Scandinavians don't like showing off, so their style is understated and more about relaxing and enjoying your home than making it a showpiece," says Anne Tiainen-Harris, founder of Cloudberry Living, which specialises in interior pieces and accessories by Scandinavian designers.

"It's all about simple, pure and calm beauty combined with a high degree of functionality.

"I think it's hugely popular in Britain because space is very expensive here and Scandi-style helps create the illusion of space and airiness in any interior."

While connoisseurs may yearn for pieces by iconic designers such as Denmark's Arne Jacobsen, whose Butterfly chair was famously straddled in the Sixties by a naked Christine Keeler, or fellow countrymen including Henrik Pedersen and Verner Panton, most of us probably get our Scandi-fix at affordable Swedish homestore Ikea.

Its popularity was highlighted by recent Mintel research which found that we buy almost 10% of our furniture from its 18 UK stores, even though some may be tempted to commit a crime against the authors of its flatpack instructions.

Whether you're already a Scandi convert, or keen to make the switch, check out this guide to sourcing the style.

• Danish delight
Dark settings add to the atmosphere of BBC Four's The Killing, but in reality Danish interiors are about uncluttered spaces, white painted walls and richly grained wooden floors.

"If white's too cold and stark for your taste, opt instead for a soft colour palette of pale greys and blues which are on trend this year," advises Gail Abbott, author of Living With Light, a guide to decorating the Scandinavian way.

"Include an accent colour - blue or red is characteristic of the style - which can instantly give a lift to a white room."

Get the look: A classic Danish-designed light, the Louis Poulsen PH5 white pendant, is £432 from Cloudberry Living.

Inject colour with retro style. Verner Panton's sleek S chair, £189, comes in various colours including red. Lounge on the new upholstered Tarn seating by a fellow Dane, Henrik Pedersen - chair £499. Or enjoy sweet Scandi dreams by furnishing a bedroom with the Aspen furniture collection by Hans Thyge Raunkjaer. Bed from £250. All furniture from John Lewis.

• Swedish stars
Fans of the brooding BBC One series Wallander, featuring Swedish detective Kurt Wallander (Kenneth Branagh), have plenty of sources to plunder to replicate his style.

Building firm still growing strong

N J Whittaker Ltd continue to be very busy and have secured, and are about to commence, several new local contracts including New Build, Extensions and Refurbishments.

We are also encouraged by the level of new enquiries we are receiving. This is despite going through a very competitive period and the recent VAT increase.

Have you got a builders question you need answering?

Each month in our Homes and Interiors feature we have a helpful section with Nick Whittaker of N J Whittaker Ltd in Honiton. He is an experienced and full qualified builder who will answer your questions. This can be anything from DIY queries, a query about new laws and regulations, to a dispute with a builder you have at the moment.

Please either email your questions to kelly@tindlenews.co.uk or post them to; Kelly Baker, Pulman's View, Tindle House, South Street, Axminster, Devon EX13 5AD.

Builders question for May from Mr Hamble

I am having a small extension built and got three quotes but there are large differences between them. Do I go with the cheapest?

Answer:

You should ask the builders with the lowest two quotes for references and a detailed breakdown for comparison. After collecting the two references you should check them. You may well find the dearer builder got his job done on time and with no extras added on whereas the cheaper one only worked two days a week taking longer to finish and there were extra items added on that pushed up the final price. Good advice - if the lowest price looks too good to be true it will invariably prove to be the case in the end.

OUT & ABOUT

● AS wedding fever takes hold across Pulman's View country Colyton Theatre Group is getting set to perform its production of Sylvia's Wedding.

Performances start at 7.30pm on Wednesday, May 11th, and the show runs until Saturday, May 14th, at Colyton Town Hall.

A spokesman for the theatre group said: "This is a spirited comedy set in the north of England, revolving around the unexpected engagement of Sylvia to her boyfriend of ten years and throwing together two contrasting and warring families."

"It is definitely not to be missed."

Tickets cost £7 for adults and £4 for under 18s and can be purchased from Colyton Pharmacy, Archway Bookshop, Axminster, and Steve's Print, Seaton.

The organisers are offering visitors the chance to purchase four tickets for the price of three for the opening performance.

● AN open garden afternoon with cream teas and a bring-and-buy plant sale is being held at Lower Ware, Lyme Regis, on Sunday, May 15th.

The event will be held in aid of children's charity Action Medical Research and has been organised by local volunteers from the charity's Lyme Regis committee.

The garden in Ware Lane will be open from 2.30pm to 5.30pm.

Action Medical Research is a UK charity funding vital research to help babies and children. Entrance on the day will be £3.

● UPLYME and Lyme Regis Horticultural Society will hold its annual spring plant sale and coffee morning from 10am-12noon at Uplyme Village Hall on Saturday May 7th.

Bacon rolls, tea, coffee and cake will be on sale and there will be a raffle and sales table. Entry is £1.

Peep into a Victorian kitchen garden

COMBE House at Gittisham, near Honiton, will be opening its gardens and grounds to the public for the afternoon of Wednesday, May 18th between 2.30pm and 5pm in support of the Hospitality Action charity.

Hidden on a 3,500-acre country estate, the stunning Grade I Elizabethan manor house hotel has recently restored its original Victorian kitchen gardens and glass houses, which will all be open to view.

Come and meet Combe's two highly skilled gardeners, Charlie O'Reilly and Ron Hutchinson, whose hard work in all weathers has brought the once neglected, Victorian gardens back to life.

Looking forward to welcoming you on May 18th Ken Hunt, who runs Combe House with his wife Ruth, said: "The gardens are going to look absolutely stunning in May, the early spring sunshine has brought on the buds which will then be in full bloom. Young fresh vegetables, fruit and herbs will have also sprouted in the kitchen gardens ready to be used by our chefs in their wonderful dishes."

Proceeds from the £7 per person entrance free will be put towards Hospitality Action, the charity which offers a range of services to past and present employees within the hospitality industry.

There is no need to book, just come along and pay at the gate; tea is included in the price. For more information visit www.combehousedevon.com.

Festival music to your ears

STARTING on Thursday May 5th, the Honiton Festival will bring one of Britain's favourite counter tenors, James Bowman, in the delightful setting of St Michael's, Coteleigh.

This is followed by a concert of clarinet music by Julian Bliss and The Cavaleri Quartet in St Paul's, Honiton, on Friday May 6th.

Ben Baker and Naufal Mukumi will give the only lunchtime concert of the season, featuring violin and piano, on Friday May 13th May at St Paul's and then, in a change of venue, the mini-festival closes on Saturday May 14th with Crispian Steele-Perkins and The Handel Players at Ottery St Mary Parish Church.

James Bowman CBE has been one of the world's leading counter tenors for over 40 years. His career spans opera, oratorio, contemporary music and solo recitals.

Julian Bliss has performed as a soloist and a chamber musician, notably with his teacher Sabine Meyer.

He also designed the Bliss Clarinet for instrument manufacturer Leblanc.

The Cavaleri (formerly Harpham) Quartet were selected for the Park Lane Group Young Artists Series in 2008 and made their Wigmore Hall debut in 2010.

Ben Baker notched up seven TV appearances in New Zealand and had played with Nigel Kennedy by the age of seven.

The Yehudi Menuhin School scholar's first

◆ CLARINET player Julian Bliss

solo CD, Arcadian Strings, won Classic FM's Next Big Thing Award.

Naufal Mukumi is a graduate of the Purcell School with a scholarship at Trinity College of Music. Naufal made a solo debut age 9 with the Uzbekistan National Symphony Orchestra.

Crispian Steele-Perkins played with the English National Youth Orchestra at age 16. After Guildhall School of Music, he began a professional career with Sadler's Wells Theatre (ENO) 1966-73, then with Royal Philharmonic Orchestra in 1976-80.

The Handel Players have played across the UK, Europe and US collaborating with singers such as Emma Kirkby.

OUT & ABOUT

● A THEATRE tour is set to play at Honiton's Boston Tea Party Café on Wednesday, May 18th.

A show created by the Metta Theatre Company will be playing at Boston Tea Party Cafés across the south west in May.

The theatre group will be bringing their performance of The Man with the Flower in his Mouth to seven of the nine cafés.

Jim Coslett, Boston Tea Party theatre tour organiser, said: "We are extremely excited to play host to this adaptation of a classic play from this amazing young theatre company. The play's subject matter and setting will work brilliantly with the relaxed intimate ambience of our cafés, these performances should not be missed."

Heather Doole, Metta Theatre producer, added: "When we were looking for cafés to work with The Boston Tea Party was a natural choice. The ethical policies and friendly attitude fits perfectly with Metta's policies."

"The vibrancy and character of all cafés make them a perfect place to put an interesting and exciting piece of theatre."

Tickets to the performance cost £10 and are available direct from the café or online at www.bostonteatparty.co.uk or www.mettatheatre.co.uk.

● MUSBURY Plant and Craft Sale is on Saturday, May 7th from 9.30am-12noon at Musbury Village Hall.

The event is a regular fixture in the local community calendar. Entry to the sale is free, with proceeds going to fund Musbury Show which takes place on Saturday, August 13th.

● HONITON Senior Council will be holding a coffee morning and talk on Monday, May 9th.

The event will take place at 11am at the Royal British Legion Hall on Dowell Street.

The talk will be given by David Guy of Shelterbox. Organisers say everyone is welcome to attend.

FUEL TEST

MERCEDES is on something of a mission to raise awareness of hydrogen as a viable, alternative future fuel. And how? By taking a brace of B-Class cars on a world tour — all 19,000 miles of it.

Electric power might be flavour of the month but it's not for everyone. Range, battery weight, charging issues and cost — government grants notwithstanding — are just a few considerations. Hydrogen fuel cell-powered cars offer, in principal, greater flexibility and range, petrol car-like performance plus supermini levels of economy. And don't forget, the only tailpipe emission is water.

Unlike an electric car, you can't buy a fuel cell model. Until now anything that showed potential was little more than a prototype. The B-Class is different; it's a regular car destined for low-scale production and real world trials. Its clever 'sandwich' floor allows the hydrogen tanks and fuel cell to fill the gap, with the electric motor in the nose and the car's lithium-ion battery pack, used for the start up and initial running, located aft below the boot space.

The test location was the coastal town of Ceduna, west of Adelaide, Australia. The 1,200-mile, four-day journey to Perth on Outback roads included dodging the legendary roadtrains, snakes, flies, 36-degree heat and plenty of dust. If a high-tech fuel cell car could survive here it could survive anywhere.

To date, the exercise has shown that the cars work. No fuss, no glitches, no performance worries. With the maximum 3.7kg of compressed hydrogen on board, the car's range is approximately 250 miles of mixed motoring. Regular running at 60mph on Outback roads saw that drop to around 200 miles. Overall, though, conventional fuel consumption is said to be around 85mpg — much better than your average family hatchback.

The two hydrogen fuel tankers accompanying the cars acted as mobile filling stations, as locally sourced fuel has been the backbone of the tour. In the real world, however, it's the scarcity of bricks and mortar filling stations that's proving to be the real bottleneck to progress. Mercedes and others are also developing electric vehicles and there appears to be money available for charging points — witness the growth in popularity in the UK alone.

After four days and 1,200 miles what lessons have been learnt? Simply put, the B-Class works and is ready for the real world; the driving experience is conventional and overall performance is good. What's needed now is a similar effort from those responsible for building a refuelling infrastructure. It will take time and money, two things the world appears to be lacking, but the technology mustn't be allowed to go to waste.

DEVON AND EXETER LEAGUE

AXMINSTER Town Reserves finally have a win to their credit after losing twenty and drawing just two of their matches in Division Two this season.

The Tigers beat North Tawton 3-1 with Adam Downes 2 and Leo Maguire scoring, and it was a massive result for the club although both they and North Tawton are relegated.

Newly formed Dolphin routed Feniton Reserves 10-1 to clinch the Division Five title.

Sidmouth Town won the match of the day 2-1 against Premier division leaders Seaton Town, and that makes next Saturdays return meeting a probable title decider. Andy Thomson and Ben Ashford had the vikings goals, Mark Hancock having equalised for Seaton.

Topsham Town were gunned down 4-1 at Beer Albion despite taking the lead in the second half.

Luke Bartlett 2 and Martin Hancock then hit three goals in five minutes and the fishermen added a fourth from Matt Rowson.

Feniton battling against relegation beat Witheridge Reserves 2-1 with a goal in the last minute for the second time this week. Jonathan French was their matchwinner.

Honiton Town drew 3-3 with Bow AAC and must now win their last two matches to save themselves. Chaz Lane scored twice for Honiton.

Liverton United 8
Axminster Town 1

AXMINSTER'S hopes of spoiling Liverton's championship party were ruthlessly brushed aside in a one-side encounter.

Tigers' boss Nick Ogden had spoken beforehand of playing with no fear against the champions who have lost just once in a tremendous season and maybe even snatching a point to end their own disappointing campaign, which has seen them finish bottom of the league, on a plus point.

But Liverton were in no mood to be generous and rattling in another eight goals took their league tally to exactly a century in 30 games, 29 more than closest rivals Budleigh and an amazing strike rate.

Stefan Chubb and Simon Lewcock both scored hat-tricks with further strikes from Robbie Bowker and Ben Carter as the home side dominated in front of a large crowd.

Terry Emmett scored a consolation goal with a terrific long range strike in the 65th minute.

10-mile ride

HORSERIDERS will be able to take advantage of the beautiful countryside at the Cricket St Thomas Estate at Chard, Somerset this month.

The 10-mile pleasure ride, which will include optional jumps, will take place on Sunday, May 15th at the venue made famous by BBC series To the Manor Born.

The ride will start at 10am, with the last horse leaving at 12noon.

The cost is £15 per rider with profits being shared between Farway United Football Club, RSPCA Pet Retreat and Stockland Primary School. Under-16s must be accompanied by an adult.

For more information contact Paul King on 01460 234346 or 07928 075741.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE ROUND-UP

SILVER CHALLENGE FOR WINSHAM BOYS

By KEVIN FAHEY
sport.pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

WINSHAM manager Phil Loaring has challenged his players to complete a perfect week by adding some silverware to promotion.

Winsham clinched promotion to the Premier Division on Saturday after trouncing Charmouth 7-1, a victory that secured their second place in Division One behind champions Crewkerne Town and thereby denying unlucky Millwey Rise despite their 4-3 win over Netherbury.

With promotion secured Winsham now take on Netherbury in the final of the Arthur Gage Cup at Axminster Town's Sector Lane ground on Friday evening (kick-off 6.15pm).

Loaring said: "I told the players promotion was always the priority and anything else would be a bonus but it would be nice to win the cup as well. I'm told Winsham have been in the final twice before but have never won the cup so victory in the cup would be a nice way to end the season. But as far as the league is concerned it is job done."

For Loaring it completes a remarkable two seasons after he took on the job following Winsham's relegation in 2009. He added: "Last season we finished joint-second and missed out on promotion on goals difference so it is good to do this time."

Tom Stead scored a hat-trick in the win over Charmouth with two from Henry Broom and further goals from Stuart Richards and Tom Symes.

Division One champions Crewkerne Town ended their season on a winning note with a 6-2 win at Forton.

Dale Wood, who was switched from normal goalkeeping duties to play up front and Danny Baker both scored twice with Ashley Larkin and Lee Banks completing the scoring.

"With our reserve team also getting promotion from Division Three it has been a great season for the club," said manager Nick Murphy.

The honour of going up as champions of Division Three goes to Misterton Reserves. While Misterton's first team suffered relegation from the Premier, Adge Diment's young squad secured the title with a 4-0 win over Drimpton.

Diment said: "We still have two games to play but no-one can catch us now. I'm not sure if the reserves have ever won a league title before or reached Division Two so that is a fine achievement." Ricky Smith, Liam Bennett, Dan Peach and Neil Hawkins scored against Drimpton.

John Mason's late winner in the 2-1 victory against Forton Rangers Reserves has given Chard Rangers a great chance of avoiding relegation from Division Two.

Manager Justin Mason said: "We need one point from our last two games starting with Pymore away on Tuesday and then Shepton Beauchamp on Saturday.

"We have given ourselves a great chance after only having one point at Christmas. I couldn't be more proud of the lads." Wayne Long was Chard's other scorer.

South Petherton will look to wrap up the Premier Division title when they take on Farway United tonight before closing the season against main rivals Lyme Regis on Saturday.

South Petherton boss Gordon Childs, said: "I have my strongest side out for Tuesday's game and hopefully the title will all be wrapped up before the last game against Lyme."

Badminton sees Mary take third

EAST Devon rider Mary King took a very respectable bronze placing at Badminton Horse Trials over the Easter weekend, followed by winning the Rolex Kentucky four-star competition in America.

King, 49, rode a text-book cross country phase at Badminton on Imperial Cavalier after a tricky dressage test in front of bumper Easter crowds.

In the final round — the show jumping on Bank Holiday Monday — King jumped clear in the close contest seeing her momentarily in first place until she was piped to the post by winner Mark Todd and Piggy French in second.

Likely to have secured her team place for the 2012 Olympics, the third place medal left King in good spirits as she headed off to Kentucky for the Rolex competition with two other horses.

Dominating the American annual showpiece in front of a live NBC television audience, King became the first rider ever to finish first and second in the competition with King's Temptress and Fernhill Urco respectively.

King was treated to a regal applaud as the almost 16,000-strong crowd gave her a standing ovation.

BOSS HAPPY WITH 8-2 WIN

Farway Utd manager pleased with season's play

By KEVIN FAHEY

Farway United 8
Misterton 2

FARWAY boss Andy Bailey goes into tonight's final game of the season against title favourite's South Petherton very satisfied with his team's performances on their return to the Premier Division.

The 2009-10 Division One champions can do no worse than finish sixth and may yet claim fifth spot on their return to the top flight but whatever the outcome of tonight's match Bailey will stick by his verdict of the campaign.

Bailey, who has had a managerial position at the club on and off since 1993, said: "It has been an excellent season. If someone had told me last September that we would finish fifth or sixth then I would have happily settled for that.

"Obviously, you look back and most of us will be kicking ourselves at points dropped which would have meant we would have finished closer to the top clubs.

"I wouldn't say we are strong enough to challenge for the league but I think we could have been challenging for fourth place. It is also great to have seen a couple of young players come through into the first team."

Saturday's star player was James Salter, who scored his first hat-trick of the season while Bradley King chipped in with a double. Martin Summers, Ben Williams and Dylan Gare completed the scoring.

Tonight will be a far tougher proposition with South Petherton needing just three points to wrap up the title but Bailey said his team is up for the challenge.

"If we play like we have done in the past couple of matches we can give them a game," added Bailey.
